

"DUAL" Futurity Award

After thinking about the "how to" and running some calculations, the Show and Field Futurity announce a new award! The "Dual" Futurity Award recognizes the GWP who places highest in BOTH the show and the field futurity promoting the ideal of form & function.

Background Information: There are no eligible dogs going back in Futurity records thru 2009. In several years while there was a field placement winner, they did not place in the Show Futurity or the reverse in another year. Awards will be presented at the 2013 Nationals. However we are happy to announce that 2012 had an eligible dog.

Rules: All show & field futurity nominated dogs must enter & place in both futurities during their eligibility year. All placements will be counted for the competition. A dog may only compete once in the Show and the Field Futurity. While the event eligibility year may differ in the Show Futurity, the award will be calculated at the end of each year's Field Futurity. 2.5% of the nomination fees will be provided from the show/field futurities to total 5% in prize money. 60% to the Owner, 40% to the Breeder.
If there is no winner for that year the prize money will return to each futurity.

Calculating the Dual Award

The winner of Dual Futurity Award will be the dog with the highest point total in its futurity entries based on the following. The show futurity offers 24 placements (1st – 4th in junior, intermediate & senior dogs and bitches).

The field futurity offers only 4 placements (1st – 4th).

Therefore, the field futurity placement carries more weight than a show futurity placement.

The following formula will calculate the winner of the Dual Futurity Award.
